On the American Health Care Act Vote

Thursday, May 4, 2017

"As the model for the Affordable Care Act, Massachusetts has made significant advances over the past decade in expanding coverage and on efforts to contain health care costs. We are concerned about the impact that today's vote will have on residents of the Commonwealth and that it will jeopardize the state's health reform efforts. We remain committed to working with Governor Baker and members of his Administration, the Attorney General, legislative leaders, the Congressional delegation, and our partners in the health care community on measures to ensure that today's vote does not disrupt access to health care for Massachusetts residents."
